Well, it's finally over: despite the fact that we finished with only an hour to spare. Now perhaps we can sleep. It was during the final hours that the core of the Ignatian staff showed its true merit. At the risk of being stereotypical, we must, like all our predecessors, give thanks where thanks is due. George, Kevin, Tom, Aviv, and Eric have been extremely faithful throughout the course of the year. If not for loyal staff members such as they, or the invaluable aid of our moderators, Mr. McPherson and Mr. Shaughnessy, the production of this yearbook would not have been the truly rewarding experience that it was. But, with our staff, we have greatly enjoyed our modest endeavor.

For those who had hoped for a traditional St. Ignatius yearbook, we are afraid you may be slightly disappointed. For better or for worse, we have altered the format of the Ignatian. We hope our modifications have not offended anyone, but have added, instead, another dimension to the image of the St. Ignatius community. For those who are searching for some inner meaning in these words, we are afraid that this is as profound as we can be at what is now 2:30 a.m. Be thankful, instead, for the laugnter and the enjoyment that this book provides.

Thank you,

The editors of the 1981 Ignatian:

Chris O'Grady
